

Terms of Seeing New and Selected Poems

By Ramakrishnan E V

Konark Publication, New Delhi. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. 125pp. This is E.V. Ramakrishnans third volume of poems in English. His poems evidence a deep disquiet that is pointer to the times we live in. He captures the vulnerability of our sociopolitical frameworks in understatements, self-reflexive comments, casual observations and graphic images. He would rather allow the poem to speak than comment himself. Most of the poems in the volume move towards a moment of alert receptivity when words cease to be mere words, but open up to momentary perceptions of relationships between human being and also between the living and the nonliving. They explore an area of experience we call political with a moral concern that comes through in the deliberate choice of words and tone. Of the fifty poems collected here, forty one have been written during the last decade, while the remaining ones are selected from the earlier volumes. Poems like 'Terms of Seeing?' and 'A Pair of Eyes?' problematize the act of seeing. In 'Stray Cats?' we come across the line: 'The horror is in the seeing.' The child who captures the spontaneity of a huge fountain of water in an expressive phrase, a weatherman who foresees...
