RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 56 pages. LC Number: KF26 . E55 2009i OCLC Number: (OCoLC)422550058 Subject: Household appliances -- Efficiency -- Law and legislation -- United States. Excerpt: . . . ance standards and Energy Star. Id like to thank the committee for holding this hearing as well as for your leadership in the areas of energy efficiency and strong support for clean energy programs at the Department of Energy. Mr. Chairman, I know that energy efficiency is a priority for the committee. We are excited to work with you to advance the goal of making our homes, our offices, our factories and our vehicles more efficient. We look forward to working with you on this legislation. As directed by Congress the Departments appliance and commercial equipment standards program develops test procedures and energy conservation standards for residential appliances and commercial equipment. Standards promulgated by the Department and standards established by this committee save consumers money, spur innovation, conserve energy and reduce greenhouse gas emissions. On February 5 of this year, President Obama issued a memorandum to the Secretary of Energy requesting that the Department take all necessary steps to finalize legally required conservation standards rulemaking as expeditiously as possible and consistent with all applicable judicial and statutory deadlines. Were moving forward to meet the Presidents request. Specifically the Department will be completing 5 appliance standards rulemaking by August of this year and as highlighted in the Presidents memo these 5 rulemakings are likely to contribute up to 25 quads of energy savings over 30 years. The five standards rulemakings includes the codification of standards prescribed by Congress in the Energy Independence and Security Act. Standards for fluorescent and incandescent lamps. Beverage vending machines. Ranges and ovens. Certain commercial equipment covered by...
